My Dear Friend Edith -

If I did not think anything of the kind. I had waited so long before answering your letter that I supposed you had gone away. and it was a long time before you received it. I thought myself to blame; but see how good I am now. there is lots of music down in the Parlor. I left it all. and I shall expect my reward by an early answer, to all my questions. I forgive you this time. Did not Miss Wright impress firmly on your mind that you were not under any circumstances to show the Doctor's to be nice to you; Shame on you; I spent Christmas very pleasantly, the children and family were invited out for the day, all but one. so I took fifty one train and we took dinner at the Hotel.

Joined the crowd later on. in the evening attended a Cantata in Town very nice time; My Daughter is not out of danger but in the midst of it. she is 14 years old next month. I should very much like to go with you but think it impossible. this winter, I should very much like to go to Selowida. I have a friend that has an Orange Grove there I would like to have you visit me this winter, if you cannot will you do so next summer?

I really want you to come? You know I did not know anything about them at the Hospital. I had not heard of the smallpox at all. Tell me all about it. if it is not too tiring? did they send the nurses all away, or what did they do? I am so surprised I can not express it; that Miss Wright is going away. I never thought of the place but in connection with her, and she is going to get married; tell me who too. I heard her say that no whelp of a man would ever get her, perhaps he is not one though.

How do you suppose she is going to multify and replendish the earth no I did not send the box, I wrote but receiving no answer. I conclude ed not to do so; I told you there was a place to strike Miss Wright-if you only knew where. She had more than one weak spot; I think her husband's will be in the knave's I despise bravery of that kind.
What in the name of common sense does Miss Miller want with a case. thought she was superintendent of some training school. Your letter almost took my breath away. they surely must have had marry on the brain, who did Mrs Switzer marry. I knew Mrs Barnum would be married. she told me as much, but where is her engagement in St Louis gone to, and her care for her sister, Edith all is not-gold that-glitters. But Miss Barnum was to marry a gentle man that resided in Buffalo; Miss Davidson loved mystery, and was one, or I never saw one, all I can say is Heaven fity Miss B. family, for that kind always have good sized ones, well you may say (ahem), and what about Miss Crouch she has not-gone and got married I hope, thought- she did have a little sense in that line.

I thought-every thing was altogether lovely there, we have had a great-deal of Diphtheria and Scarlet-Fever here this winter but-we all have escaped so far for which I am thankful. I have had company all day. I am talked most-to death. I was glad to get so long a letter and hope you will write as long a one. or longer, the next time; do answer all my questions. I have written twice to Miss Rock. but-she did not reply; can you tell me why. she did not get-that-dreadful disease did she?

or is Miss Lindley careless about the mail? I should be sorry indeed if anything has happened to her. she seemed in such good spirits the last-letter I received from her, I don't-believe it-would surprise me if you would tell me that. Mamma Black was gone to that word without end, and Dr Shields was worried. tut-tut such work to be the results of high flown teaching; Yes I received my usual amount of Christmas presents, it seemed to be the best Christmas I ever spent; my heart almost refused to be glad, others had so much sorrow that it seemed wicked to rejoice in our own happiness. we have had no snow, and very little cold weather this winter.

it must be our climate is changing with California. how I wish you were here if it was only to spend
